REPUBLICAN CANS WIN.

All the Precincts Heard from Except Three.

A Large Majority for Taylor and Hindman.

An unusually heavy poll was taken in this county which gave it to the Republicans by a large majority. All the precincts have been heard from except Bawleyville, Rock Vale and Clinton Mills. Taylor seems to have carried the county by a majority of 42%.

CITY AND COUNTY

Both go Republican and a Large

Vote and Quiet Election,

THE NEW CITY COUNCIL.

Yesterday while the election was in progress and afterwards, this town presented a quiet and orderly appearance. There were no disturbances in any of the three voting precincts. The day seemed more like a busy Saturday, than like the day when the most bitterly contested election known in the state and country in years, was being decided. The voters were in and out of the polls, cast their votes and went on about their business. Their hands were stained with ink and they simply recorded their votes. There was a good deal of moving around by the friends and workers on both sides, but they proceeded in such a quiet way that you wouldn't have suspected that were electioneering. This town was overwhelmingly Republican as did a county.

An unusually large number of votes were cast and much interest was manifested in the city election, which preceded the election of the following county.

M. E. Miller, K. T. Hayes, James G. Linton, Barney Bohler, James Mattingly and Salter McCracken.

CURRENT TOPICS.

BY MRS. HATTIE GRINNELL.

"Dewey To Wed?" Thank goodness! for the denouement! We all stand ready to congratulate Mrs. Hazen, and when we do, we'll go into his new home, close the door, hang his hat up, and let the press think, talk, and write about another worthy. Just take most anybody, so pliable for Dewey and abominable for Goebel, please. We are so awfully tired of that.

Every noble thought and decent place we move in harmony with the currents of spiritual progress. Every ignoble thought, every base desire, every unworthy act, dwarfs our souls and retards our advancement in divine life. Look around you and see those who live a life of love, justice, high mindedness and loyalty to all that is best in life or her being. Don't they have abiding peace, security and joy?

Shakespeare uses the word politician five times and each time it is synonymous with knave. We are to infer from this that to be a politician is a profession that is one's sacrifice truth and honor for power. Well, I think that Shakespeare was on earth today. He would have much to say about American municipalities. We are governed by men who hold their grip upon us through and by state law and it is not for law the people could present themselves against their officers. As they are powerless and are robed legally.

Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis' question, "Is the public school a curse?" She found a vigorous answer for our public schools in Mrs. Stephen Van Rensselaer who replied to Mrs. Davis' article in "The North American Review." "The public school does its work"; "The education has always an unclouded blessing to America and American"; Mrs. Davis also said. These questions need not be answered as they arose of possible, may happen. Mrs. Van Rensselaer replied that undoubtedly the blessings outweigh the curse. Suppose we try to fancy what the condition of our land would be today without our free schools. Our imagination shrinks from the first outlines of the picture. Mrs. Davis' answer is that the American sentiment in Louisiana, where few people could read and write, yet a marked degree of happiness prevailed and she was apprehensive that schoolchildren might be sent there to "open the way for thirls, blouses, and civilities." Well Mrs. Van Rensselaer wants just a plain school and places under her control so they can contribute moral and cultural without any schooling. That was not a normal community we might tell. Mrs. Davis. It was an anachronism and anachronism only destined change. We have known and heard of great folk in other lands and other ages, who could not read and write, but they were estimable among ourselves and just so is a participation of pastoral ignorance and innocence in any locality, Business, railroads, politics and newspapers touch all corners now in the modern white man's world, and the elimination of the school is the only way to improve it. The reason why a community is not what it should be or all, is not what a school is, the child grows man, you born the boy, the child grows man, the use of labor is surely done.

There remained a need for the people of God; they have had enough for osa.

—Quoted by Dr. Collar.

Dr. Collar, an English surgeon of Dublin, who is in the way, remarkable for his plain dealing with himself. In his free book he had many such entries as the following:

"For a gouty, infestful advice for the cure of a gouty toe."

"For attempting to draw out the stump of a tooth, I grieve."

"For telling him that he was no man in the world."

"For nothing that I know of, except that he probably thought he did not pay me enough last time, 1 guinea."

EIGHT PAGES.

CARDS OF THANKS over the door charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. QUOTATIONS charged for at the rate of 5 cents per line.

HONOR IN ADVANCE.

The Boers are what we would call in this country "hired farmers."

A YOUNG man should never position for an opportunity. He should make it.

What this is real the election will be in the thing of the past. It will be either Gobell or Taylor and so far as the News concerned the man whom the people elect will be our Governor, and as such, we will stand by him if he stands for the right. A Kentuckian occupying the office of Governor is a good man, but he is not afford to do anything but the right thing. So here's to the next Governor, he be Gobell or Taylor.

The News is glad of one thing now that the election is over, and that is that the country is free from the Gobell and it has no remorse of conscience for having printed a lot of silly stuff sufficient to incite mobs and arrest one class of citizens against another, create enmities and kind feelings and stir up the worst blood in the community—all for the purpose of putting a few fellows in fat places. For one time in 20 years our hands are clean, our conscience clear and we are glad of it.

Systematic learning is what we need in the south. We have an abundance of land, good soil and our climate contributes to the rapid growth of farms and to other like uses as well. There is neither money nor profit in cultivating a large area of land in a slip-shod way so that the net proceeds barely pay for the family groceries. A small farm managed in an ordinary systematic manner, using everything to the best advantage, can be made to pay. Let the farmers use their brains as well as their muscle; let them study their business and stick to it. Instead of talking politics and "hard times" at the country store and great will be the change. Let them do away with a haphazard, work when you please kind of farming and adopt another more systematic procedure as it was, carry it out to the latter and watch results. When this order of things is inaugurated, there will be no gone-to-waste, worn out farms and every farmer will be prosperous and contented and master of his surveys.

In the recent installation of President Hadley, the thirteenth President of Yale college, is exemplified the importance of having strong character as educators. President Hadley is not a minister, as many of his predecessors have been, but is a man of strong personality, of the old school type, and a deep student of human nature. The president of a large college like Yale, must, naturally exert a wonderful influence for good or evil; likewise, in a comparative degree, does the humble pedagogue who walks a mile to his log school house, eat his lunch from a tin pail and boards a "scow" boat to school. The influence the educator is incalculable. He stands for right and equity among his fellow men. Knowledge is the key that unlocks the mysteries of life and it is to the teachers, the renowned leaders of education in every community, that we appeal for help. The teachers of Breckinridge county are the ones to answer for the future history of this country. Next to the mothers, they are probably the most responsible factors in its future government, for it is the seed of ambition, planted in youth, potentially dormant for a long time, that will spring up in manhood, bringing forth its crop of good or evil fruit. May the teachers of this country assist in the realization of every opportunity to increase their knowledge and their influence for good, and may they be rewarded by having at least one president of Yale college claim Breckinridge as the place where his ambition to be great and good was first stirred.

A WORD TO OUR PATRONS.

We have advertised for a new press. It will be set up in the rear of the office the next few weeks. It is a modern, up-to-date machine, and prints and folds an eight page paper, the size of the News. In less than half the time we are now doing it with our present facilities.

No other country office in Kentucky will have such an equipment. It is a labor-saver and time saving machine and will enable us to handle our local correspondence much more rapidly and all the news that it's fit to print right up to the time of going to press at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. When we go to press with the last form our paper comes out folded and ready for the mail in less than an hour. Under the old way we ran risk for a week or two with six or eight pieces of paper folding up the same length of time. Then again Wednesday morning there is a huddle and a bustle, all hands folding, wrapping and a rush to catch the mail. With the new facilities all this will be done while the paper is coming from the press, the mail will be ready for the Uncle Sam, and no more kicking from Marion, Westarkshire. Our city subscribers will be served with their paper, fresh and crisp, for early breakfast.

This as a master of course costs money, but the News is a great big affair. Our local and business demands it, the people here deserve the public with the want of which we are all too conscious and all who have a pride in their country and their country paper. We ask you to help us out on this piece of enterprise. We expect you to come up with your subscription, if you are behind, to pay up, to advance your money.

You couldn't invest your money to a better advantage or in a way that will bring you greater returns. Take a little stock in your home enterprise, encourage the boys and girls, who are behind it, that stand behind the guns, as Dewey said, and stick the type, that pulls the levers, read the proofs and do a thousand and one things that are necessary to be done, even in a little country paper.

There a whole lot of people, connected with the News, it's a pretty big establishment and the people are there, the news is here. The young men and young women who build its forms, write its pages, were all born and bred right here in the good old town of Cloverport and that's a thing to be proud of. Where is there a better town? Every dollar turned out for subscription, advertising, and job work, is a dollar turned out for them for work. Let me have your soul, don't wait for a personal appeal. Look at the label on your paper, and if it is important to me, it takes money to run anything that's good.

BRANDENBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ditto have two very sick children.

Miss Mayole Pusey has returned from a delightful stay in Louisville.

The Farmer's Institute will be held here November the 27th and 28th.

Miss Eva Carrigan was a guest of Mrs. J. W. Lewis and family last week.

Miss Linnie Moremen is at home after a more pleasant visit to Louisville.

Mrs. Hanes and little son, of Louisville, visited Mrs. D. W. Lewis last week. Mrs. Allen Aschraft, of Maukport, attended the little girl of June Allen Brown.

Bro. Littlefield preached to a full house last Sunday morning, and again at 6 P.M.

Charlote Colman went to Louisville to hear Taylor, canidate for Republican Governor, speak.

Mrs. Marion Reese, a kind, pleasant little woman, visited her sister, Mrs. June Brown, last week.

Mrs. Nellie Jenkins visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McGehee, last week and attended a church here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willett entertained the "Mite Society" last Saturday night. Everybody had a pleasant evening.

Yes—We know now why Miss Mayole Pusey is really brought here. She is patriotic.

Mr. G. Bryan, the old dependable and reliable piano tuner, is here doing excellent work. Mr. Bryan is as well and active as a young man.

Miss Ella Morris and several young ladies, of Corydon, whose name I do not learn, went Sunday with Misses Lillian and Virginia Rhodes.

Next Sunday will be "Bible Day" at the Baptist church. Recitations, poems, and other interesting features. Everyone cordially invited.

Miss Treat is at Mrs. Goggs to study music under Miss Daisy Melville. I beg the young ladies pardon for neglecting to report her presence here.

Thomas J. Sharkey as a prize fighter is near the end of his career. Then he intends to be a gentleman and like Dewey, he will be a successful man in order.

Mrs. W. H. Howard, and Mrs. Charles Ned Hesse were in Louisville last week. Mrs. Hesse went up to see a specialist.

Mrs. Leah Moremen has left to join her husband, Bert Moremen, who is in the West. Leah Moremen is a handsome, sweet, good young woman, and will make friends anywhere.

Little June Allen Brown, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. June Brown, died last week of pneumonia. He was a sweet, bright baby, and had been sick sometime. We extend our sympathies to the parents.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nixit the work has again flown over the house-top and there is a "glint of something" the Dallas household. A girl, and a Kentucky friend sent congratulations.

Everyone is in readiness today for the big Gobell rally. Sixteen young ladies and girls will ride to Weston to meet the speakers, headed by the Corydon band. Gobell songs arranged by A. C. Burton will be sung in the afternoon ad infinitum.

My cousin, L. A. Footh, Brandenburg, is here to help us. He is a good resource for using fertilizer on wheat in the winter. He has a paper. He has been a popular pretty much all of his life, more than three years ago, and has written a good reader and close observer.

The Lewiston correspondent is one of on honest, to pay up, to advance your money.

You couldn't invest your money to a better advantage or in a way that will bring you greater returns. Take a little stock in your home enterprise, encourage the boys and girls, who are behind it, that stand behind the guns, as Dewey said, and stick the type, that pulls the levers, read the proofs and do a thousand and one things that are necessary to be done, even in a little country paper.

Mr. A. C. Burton went to Louisville last Friday to make an address at the Rev. Philip Jenkins' church before the Young Men's Christian Society, on the evening of Saturday night and I presume he did. He also attended the Teachers' Association at Woodland Saturday.

When these big Democratic rallies come around, we all think of dear Mr. George Washington, and good honest, true and firm in all relations of life. How she did it joyously and a true Democrat was Mrs. Dowdy. She has a prototype in dear Miss Haines, her only surviving daughter, who is a true blue Democrat, and who lives a quiet, simple life, ever keeping in mind her mother's example.

This cousin of mine, Senator George H. Alexander, whose hands we last saw in Wednesday's Post, tells why he could not support Mr. Gobell. The principal and foremost reason assigned was: "I am a Democrat and do not consider Gobell the nominee of my party." Governor Gobell "had the opposition of every man in the North," he ticket.

George Alexander stands squarely on the Chicago platform and he had this Mr. Bryan known the true history of the Louisville Convention when he never would have come here to advise Democrats to endorse him. He made a speech at the Democratic party rally with a valuable lesson and that the party will have to put out the best men in. I can tell my cousin George that the party had opportunity to put out P. Watt Harbin, and that force and fraud prevented and just so will it be in the future—where police rule and all parliamentarianism is overruled.

REPLIES TO MR. THOMAS.

I notice in the News that Mr. Sam Thomas criticizes the Democrats very sharply and "Little Democrat" in particular. I am a Democrat during the past thirty years. He is mistaken. I have studied the history of both the Democrats and the Republicans, and I find that in 1870 the Republicans party demonstrated silver, after we had enjoyed independence for a long time, and for eighty years; and then I find the Democrat party fighting for the rights of the people. We fought our Wall Street party so hard that we secured the Sherman Silver Bill in 1890 and secured $32,000,000 more per annum for coinage than was under the metallic standard. In 1890 we had $100,000,000 for the abominable gold standard, crushing the labor man down in favor of the capitalist; and I find the Democratic party fighting for the rights of the people. The Angel of death has again visited our community and taken from us some who might offer to the bereaved ones would be a vain attempt to fill the aching void in their hearts. We don't know now what we can do to help them, but we know these things are. Food, presents, we know you have.

Your hearts are torn and your home is lonely and sad, but God hath done this and we know he doth all things well. Then woe is man but rather rejoices that you will again meet him on the other shore where parting is no more.

Yes, little Howard will know his loved ones.

With you reach the other shore;

Yes, he will know when you are coming.

Yes, he will meet you at the door.

Good-bye.

Good-bye.
